CfED are working with a specialist European Development Agency called Oake who have secured European Transnational resources from a French lead partner (project language is English) to pilot business diagnostic models and tools with small and medium sized 3rd sector groups and organisations across the city of Wolverhampton.

A specialist course is being constructed and that will offer bespoke targeted support for volunteer or paid staff and volunteer board members in order to test out some innovatory practices being evolved within the project. The overall aim of the project is to develop and support the acquisitions of knowledge and key competences at work for 3rd sector workers, volunteers and managers in order to better manage and to strengthen their organisation.

The project will recruit participants during the month of February 2014, with the course itself being held over 5 days in March. Course activities will include direct group work and 1-1 support within the participant's organisation.

If you would like to find out more, or to see how this project could help you and your own organisation and to ascertain if you are eligible please speak to Kenneth Rodney at CfED on 01384 456166 to register your interest.

Alternatively complete the reply slip and return by Friday 31st January 2014.

The course will run at a venue in Wolverhampton and Oake are looking to recruit no more than fifteen people from eligible 3rd sector organisations.
